Why Slow Roasted Dog Treats?

Safety in dog treats is paramount for your customers. A truly safe natural meat treat requires thorough gradual cooking, and the slow reduction of moisture content to the proper level. Unlike air dried or dehydrated treats, proper roasting naturally kills bacteria, salmonella and trichinosis (pork parasites) without chemicals or salts or artificial additives of any kind. A safe all natural treat produced under professional supervision is our objective.

Slow Roasted Dog Treats because...

- ◆ Slow roasting cooks out much of the fat content
- ◆ Slow roasting naturally enhances treat color and flavor
- ◆ Slow roasting treats baste in their own juices.
- ◆ Slow roasting leaves no bitter aftertaste.
- ◆ Exceptional palatability is our goal.

To Our Valued Customers,

Smokehouse Pet Products began preparing specialty natural dog treats in 1991. For 35 years, our sister company, Aries Prepared Beef has been serving the food service trade with high quality cooked and smoked meats.

Smokehouse Pet Products are brought to you by a team of skilled professionals who are headed by Zelko Majstorich, Director of Operations and Product Development. Lisa Kahn and Chris Cobb handle the daily sales and marketing, working closely with our fine sales reps and customers. Smokehouse Pet Products are sold internationally, including Canada, Japan, Hong Kong and Korea.

All Smokehouse Treats are just like nature made them, with the natural textures, flavors, and exceptional palatability dogs love.

Our treats are made from hand cuts that preserve the flavors of real beef, pork, lamb, turkey or chicken. Roasted Smokehouse treats spend up to 60 hours slow cooking in their natural juices. Selected items are then smoked with real hickory wood. At Smokehouse, we are continually creating new and interesting products that we know will enhance the quality of life of your pet.

Very Truly Yours,

Fred J. Scholder
